June 8 - Coaching Session

Rate My RFP will connect law firm attorneys and in-house counsel for business development and client relationship skill building. Law firm attorneys will work as teams to respond to a request for proposal from a corporate legal department involving a mock scenario, and a panel of in-house counsel will review the written and oral RFP responses, provide feedback, and award the most effective submissions.

We invite member firm associates to junior partners to apply for this innovative, practical program. Teams will be assigned based on the attorneys' practice areas. The teams will work with law firm partner and in-house counsel coaches. Program winners will be invited to meet with in-house counsel judges after the program.
